ActiveCare Medical Welcomes Local Dealers to First Open House

ActiveCare Medical welcomed several guests to the company's first open house on June 5, 2009. Hosted at ActiveCare headquarters in Columbia, SC, the open house was deemed a great success by company president and CEO, Steve Neese.

"This open house was a great way to get to know the dealers from across the state of South Carolina and introduce them to ActiveCare," Neese said. "We look forward to hosting many more of these get togethers and inviting dealers from the entire southeast, and around the country."

Guests at the open house were given tours of corporate headquarters and ActiveCare's main warehouse. In addition, guests received a sneak preview of a number of new products that will be available in the second half of 2009. Visitors also received service training and enjoyed refreshments.

"It's great to have a large DME manufacturer so close to home," said Vernie Haltiwanger of Carolina Healthcare Consultants. "Especially one that offers the combination of personal service and price that ActiveCare does."

The open house also served as the grand opening of ActiveCare's product showroom, also located at the main headquarters.

"We invite any interested dealers to visit us and see what we have to offer," Neese added.
